Chrysalis Center Recognized as Top 3% in Nation for all Health and Human Services Nonprofits

Hartford, CT – The Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) International has announced that Chrysalis Center, Inc. has received the highest recommendation for a period of three years for its Community Case Management, Supportive Housing Services and Community Integration Services. With 1400 standards, Chrysalis Center only received four recommendations, placing them in the top 3% of all health and human service nonprofits in the nation and internationally.

This accreditation decision represents the highest level of accreditation that can be awarded to an organization and shows the organization's substantial conformance to CARF standards. An organization receiving a Three-Year Accreditation has put itself through a rigorous peer review process and has demonstrated to a team of surveyors during an on-site visit that its programs and services are measurable, accountable, and of the highest quality.

"Chrysalis Center is committed to providing exemplary and compassionate care to our clients each and every day. This latest accreditation recognizes the consistent level of high-quality work our staff exhibits on behalf of our clients and families we serve, and the impact we have on the community," said Sharon L. Castelli, CEO of Chrysalis Center."

The latest accreditation is the sixth consecutive Three-Year Accreditation CARF has awarded to Chrysalis Center. In order to maintain this accreditation, Chrysalis Center underwent rigorous inspections and reporting process to ensure the organization is compliant with CARF's high-quality standards, policies and procedures.

CARF is an independent, nonprofit accrediting body whose mission is to promote the quality, value, and optimal outcomes of services through a consultative accreditation process that centers on enhancing the lives of the persons served.
